

PRESS RELEASE 30th October 2007

Are you prepared for a Disaster?

In 1605, thirteen young men planned to blow up the Houses of Parliament. Among them was Guy Fawkes, Britain's most notorious traitor. As we all know the Gun Pounder plot was not successful and a huge disaster prevented.

Today, all business leaders, without exception, need to prepare for disasters, in fact Directors have a real duty of care to their customers, suppliers and most importantly their employees to protect their Businesses against a disaster as failure to do so could have a massive and potential irreparable damage.

Richard Morris, Managing Director of MCW Group says "it may not be the most exciting subject, BUT as a Director of a business it is vital to protect the company for the unforeseen disasters around the corner. Sadly, it is often when things go wrong that many Managers and Directors decide to make changes, call it 'closing the door after the horse has bolted.' We at MCW are very passionate about helping companies prepare for these potential disasters and we are therefore hosting an event on Thursday 22nd November 2007, at Carden Park, near Chester.

The event is designed for all business leaders who want to understand more about Business Continuity and Disaster planning. To book, please contact Helen or Gemma on 01978 340373 / 01978 340347.
